"Be peace-loving. Peace is a precious treasure to be sought with great zeal. You are well aware that our sins arouse God's anger. You must change your life, therefore, so that God in his mercy will pardon you. What we conceal from men is known to God. Be converted, then, with a sincere heart. Live your life that you may receive the blessing of the Lord. Then the peace of God our Father will be with you always." — St. Francis of Paola

Now You Know

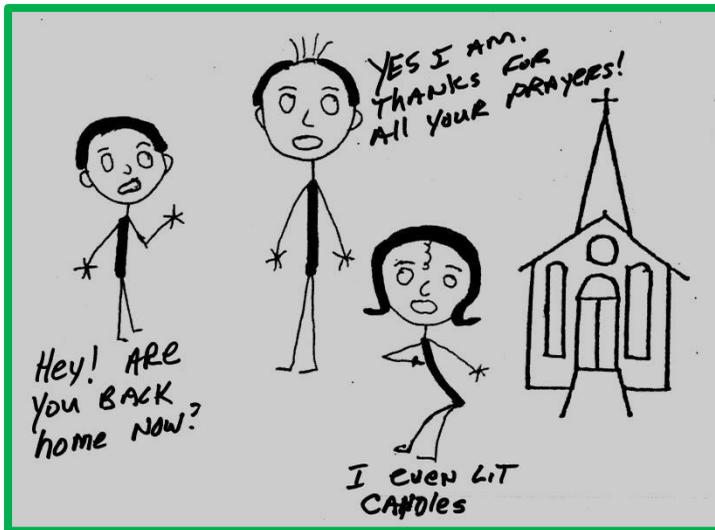

The Catholic Church's teaching on papal infallibility is one which is generally misunderstood by those outside the Church. In particular, Fundamentalists and other "Bible Christians" often confuse the charism of papal "infallibility" with "impeccability." They imagine Catholics believe the pope cannot sin. Others, who avoid this elementary blunder, think the pope relies on some sort of amulet or magical incantation when an infallible definition is due.

Given these common misapprehensions regarding the basic tenets of papal infallibility, it is necessary to explain exactly what infallibility is not. Infallibility is not the absence of sin. Nor is it a charism that belongs only to the pope. Indeed, infallibility also belongs to the body of bishops as a whole, when, in doctrinal unity with the pope, they solemnly teach a doctrine as true. We have this from Jesus himself, who promised the apostles and their successors the bishops, the magisterium of the Church: "He who hears you hears me" (Luke 10:16), and "Whatever you bind on earth shall be bound in heaven" (Matt. 18:18).

Christ instructed the Church to preach everything he taught (Matt. 28:19–20) and promised the protection of the Holy Spirit to "guide you into all the truth" (John 16:13). That mandate and that promise guarantee the Church will never fall away from his teachings (Matt. 16:18, 1 Tim. 3:15), even if individual Catholics might.

Individual bishops are not infallible. Some stray far from Christ's teaching: Cardinal Marx of Germany will admit non-Catholics and Catholics with Mortal Sin to Holy Communion. How are we to know when a Cardinal is right or wrong? It is important that we study our Lord's Word carefully and its application to our lives through an understanding of the Catechism of the Catholic Church (if you don't have one, call us; we'll give you one).

Fr. Carl is back home and nearly back to normal activity. If you didn't notice on the opposite page, Come and Savor is back on beginning this Monday. We're hoping that he can celebrate Mass with us next week.

A request from Catholic Charities Southwest Ohio: “In our ongoing mission to respect the dignity of every person and to support those who choose life, Catholic Charities assists many families with young children. Families struggling to provide the basic needs for their families often run into difficult times paying rent, buying food and paying for diapers. While there are wonderful pregnancy resource centers in the Greater Cincinnati area, often times families find themselves in need of extra help with diapers, especially size 3 and 4 diapers. Next time you are shopping, would you consider picking up a few packs of diapers to donate to Catholic Charities?” If you want, you can leave the diapers on the shelves in the back porch of church and we’ll make sure they get to Catholic Charities.

You probably know about Guardian Angels’ Family Rosary and Exposition at 3 pm to 7 pm every Thursday. If you didn’t know, you do now. Take some time away from your busy day and visit the Lord in the Eucharist and be with Him in prayer. If you offer your prayer for the intentions of the Holy Father, receive Holy Communion, and go to confession within one week before or after, you may be granted a Plenary Indulgence. Did you know that Indulgences granted to you can be gifted to someone who might already be in Purgatory?

The Pope’s Prayer Intention for May

That the Lay faithful may fulfil their specific mission by responding with creativity to the challenges that face the world today.

Four men will be ordained to the priesthood Saturday, May 19, at St. Peter-in-Chains Cathedral downtown. They are Deacon Craig Best (St. Margaret/St. John), Deacon Jarred Kohn (St. Mary, Philothea), Deacon Andrew Smith (St. Luke, Beavercreek), and Deacon Jacob Willig (St. Antoninus). It’s long process to become a Catholic priest. A man first needs a bachelor’s degree, then he will study 4 or 5 more years of study and will be ordained a Transitional Deacon. After another year or so, he will be ordained to the priesthood. Please pray for these men.
