"What does Jesus Christ do in the Eucharist? It is God who, as our Savior, offers himself each day for us to his Father's justice. If you are in difficulties and sorrows, he will comfort and relieve you. If you are sick, he will either cure you or give you strength to suffer so as to merit Heaven. If the devil, the world, and the flesh are making war upon you, he will give you the weapons with which to fight, to resist, and to win victory. If you are poor, he will enrich you with all sorts of riches for time and eternity. Let us open the door of his sacred and adorable Heart, and be wrapped about for an instant by the flames of his love, and we shall see what a God who loves us can do. O my God, who shall be able to comprehend?" — St. John Vianney

Artificial Birth Control and the Church

We've been asked to explain and clarify the Church's teaching about birth control. We understand that it is unpopular and vastly misunderstood.

At the end of the Second Ecumenical Council (Vatican II), the faithful were expecting Saint Pope Paul VI to announce that artificial birth control methods were no longer prohibited practices. Instead, he did just the opposite – he reiterated and reinforced the condemnation of all artificial forms.

In his encyclical Humanae Vitae, St. Paul VI wrote, “...the fundamental nature of the marriage act, while uniting husband and wife in the closest intimacy, also renders them capable of generating new life—and this as a result of laws written into the actual nature of man and of woman. And if each of these essential qualities, the unitive and the procreative, is preserved, the use of marriage fully retains its sense of true mutual love and its ordination to the supreme responsibility of parenthood to which man is called.” In other words, God designed marriage between a man and a woman to be a union of total love where each gives all of themselves (their nature) to their spouse – that totality includes love, support, help, sex, and the ability to procreate.

Paraphrasing a summary of St. Pope John Paul II's writings on the subject, spouses must give each other their whole being – their “nature”. To withhold any part of their whole being is contrary to God's design. Artificial birth control withholds from one's spouse a large part of his or her nature: the openness to procreation.

It must be said here that God does not ask us to have as many children as we are physically able. Using our reason to control our bodies, we can practice natural family planning. And, yes, some couples are infertile and, as such, are destined to fulfil their natures in other ways.

"You must speak to Jesus, not only with your lips, but also with your heart; actually, on certain occasions, you should speak with only your heart."
— St. Padre Pio
